Valued Client,

As a nation, we are navigating through these challenging times. As the news surrounding the COVID-19 coronavirus and the economy continues to evolve, be assured that Perdue Brandon is here for our clients. We have experienced and successfully navigated through many different types of storms, and we will weather this storm as well.

We want you to know that we are operating in a responsible manner within the recommendations and guidelines of the CDC as well as local, state and federal government. At this time, we are open, answering calls and emails and doing our best to address all concerns and questions in a timely manner.

We appreciate the healthcare workers, local communities and government who are all diligently working to contain this pandemic. We all have the social responsibility to help contain the spread of COVID-19, and we are doing our part by enabling many of our employees to work remotely. We have the necessary tools in place to stay connected with each other and with each of you, our valued clients.

Our hope is that these proactive measures will be successful in flattening the curve of the virus and keep our team, clients and all of our families as healthy and protected as possible. We will continue to do everything we can to keep you informed of the latest developments through our communications and ongoing discussions.

For more information about COVID-19, visit the Center for Disease Control at cdc.gov or your local health department website.

Stay safe and healthy.
